

SUNDAY MORNING BIBLE CLASS SCHEDULE

Christ Alone Lutheran Church

2022-2023

Stewardship Review: 2 Corinthians 8 & 9

September 11, 18, & 25
(Pastor Ebert)

You don't need to believe in Jesus to be generous or "philanthropic." But only in Jesus' grace can your philanthropy be pleasing to God. St. Paul instructs the Corinthian congregation on the key principles of Christ-centered giving.

Elijah and Elisha: "The Chariots and Horsemen of Israel"

October 2, 9, 16, 23, 30,
November 6, 13, & 27
(Pastor Scheuerlein)

The younger prophet called his mentor "the chariots and horsemen of Israel"—that is, the strength and defender of God's people. Both were powerful voices, preserving faith during a time of national recklessness on the part of Israel's leaders. We study their times, their leadership, and their messages.

Special Presentation – Pastor Jim Aderman and 316NOW ministry

November 20

Pastor Jim Aderman speaks about a group who is committed to proclaiming Jesus' grace across China NOW.

Romans 1-5: Foundations of Thought on Sin, Grace, and Faith Alone

December 4, 11, 18
January 8, 15, 22, 29
February 5
(Pastor Ebert)

You will not find a better primer on the human condition and the discovery of a relationship with God than the opening chapters of St. Paul's letter to the Romans. We will track with detail the destructive nature of sin, the awe-inspiring revelation of charis (grace), and the connective power of faith in Christ.

God's Beautiful and Balanced Design for Male and Female

February 12, 19, 26
March 5, 12, 19, 26
April 2
(Pastor Scheuerlein)

In recent years, the issue of God's design for man and woman has been revisited in our circles in a document whose name is the title of this series. In a world that is increasingly confused about gender and gender-based roles, God's holy Word contains timeless direction, leading to clarity and blessing for all who receive it in faith.

Heavenly Communication

April 16, 23, 30
May 7, 14, & 21
(Pastor Ebert)

Beginning with the eighth commandment, our Lord—the Master Communicator—has much to say about how we communicate with others. That communication powerfully impacts all our relationships, beginning with those with whom we converse the most: our spouse, family, and co-workers. What can we learn from heaven about it?
